A Scientific Approach to Solving Behavior Problems

Mary Huntsberry is an Associate Certified Applied Animal Behaviorist based in Montgomery County, MD. She conducts in-person and virtual consults on behavior modification for problem behaviors commonly seen in pet dogs and cats. She will collaborate with your veterinarian to accurately assess and address a problem. Her scientific approach to training often leads to immediate changes in behavior.

Consults and Training

Sessions result in a customized program, working knowledge of how to implement a training plan, and a written assessment sent to your veterinarian.
